

JOIN PROJECT RAISE (Restoring Accountability in Schools & Education)

Since the current educational establishment refuses to correct the problems in our schools, we, the parents, teachers and taxpayers of New York, must act. Removing the expensive and experimental Common Core State Standards is the first step in making our schools accountable to parents once again.

Rob Astorino has pledged to remove the Common Core. I pledge to help him in November by identifying up to 25 Astorino voters in the state of New York. I will call each of them on November 3 to remind them to vote, and ask them to contact me after they have done so. If, by 6:00 PM on November 4, I have not heard from a voter, I will call again to remind them to vote.

Voter Name	Voter Phone	Nov. 3	Nov. 4
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25

Help New Yorkers United for Kids stop the expensive and experimental Common Core State Standards where our taxpayers are the piggy banks and our children are the guinea pigs!

Contact us: 914-364-6242

cathy@nyunited4kids.com

www.nyunited4kids.com

Developed by New Yorkers United for Kids